

Payroll Giving

A Payroll Giving scheme means your employees can donate a regular, fixed amount to our Charity directly from their salary before tax is deducted. Any employer in the UK can quickly and easily set up a Payroll Giving scheme, no matter what industry or size. If you would like to donate to our Charity regularly via payroll giving, your HR department will be able to set it up for you.

Wood Street Mission is set up on HMRC and the funds will be used for charitable purposes.

Payroll Giving is a way of giving money to charity without paying tax on it. It must be paid through PAYE from someone's wages or pension.

Employees

Your employer needs to set up and run the scheme. The amount of tax relief you get depends on the rate of tax you pay.

Employers

Contact a Payroll Giving agency to set up a scheme.

Make deductions each time you run payroll. The donation will be taken from your employees' pay before tax but after National Insurance.

Send the donations to your agency - they'll pass them on to the chosen charities. Ask your agency any questions you or your employees have about the scheme.

Costs of running a scheme

Agencies may charge an administration fee. They usually deduct this from employees' donations before they pass them to the charity. You can choose to pay the fee, meaning the charities will get more money.

You can deduct any costs of running the scheme from your business profits before tax.
